To do this on a Windows computer, go to that computer and type 'cmd' in Windows Search.. In this case, you can configure most routers to monitor traffic instead of websites.. This last part is helpful if you have blocked specific websites from being visited.. The log shows you the IP address of the device accessing the Internet, the Web address or IP address of the Internet site, the time and whether or not the connection to the site was successful. Some routers may show you the computer's MAC address instead of its IP address Knowing Which Computer Is Which Since routers don't tell you computer names, you will need to look them up if you want to know whose computer is whose in your home.. On a Netgear router, for example, log into your admin panel using a Web browser, select, 'Administration,' then 'Logs.. Monitoring Traffic Volume For some households, knowing which websites family members are visiting isn't as important as making sure bandwidth is kept below the monthly limit.. You'll find the MAC address there as well if your router uses MAC addresses to identify computers instead of IP addresses.. Email and Apps If you aren't home, or if you just don't want to log in to your router every day, most routers have options for sending reports as email notifications.. ' On a Linksys router, go to 'Router Settings,' click 'Troubleshooting' and click the 'Logs' tab.. To find this option on a Netgear router, click 'Advanced,' then 'Advanced Setup' and then 'Traffic Meter.. This opens the Command Prompt window Type 'ipconfig /all' and press enter This shows you that computer's IP address. cea114251b Duxbury Braille Translator Crack
